the total personnel force rose to 473, 69 percent over 1949, and the number of paid work hours to 864,000, or 137 percent over 1949. These increases are fairly representative and, as might be expected, figures for production, wages, etc. follow the same general pattern. Total production for 1950 amounted to 2,040,000 Deutsche marks.

The 1950 prices represent a 40 percent increase over 1944, and the 1951 prices, a 50 percent increase. These were set by the price offices of GDR ministries in conjunction with the EKM Halle and the EKM Turbine Factory, Dresden.
